

Strict Tests Through Every Process Assure Salk Polio Vaccine Safety

For the first time in history, a vaccine is protecting millions of human beings from paralytic polio. While the Salk vaccine will not work in every case, American children are being safeguarded against the dread disease, with no more risk than they would take in a vaccination against smallpox or a typhoid shot. The Salk vaccine must pass elaborate tests under the watchful eye of a government inspector at every stage of production. Then the final packaged vaccine is approved by the U.S. Public Health Service for distribution. Here are shown a few of the steps that assure American parents their children are being given a safe vaccine.

This technician is filtering dead cells and all other foreign matter from polio virus after it has grown on animal tissue in glass containers.

Virus is "cooked" in tank with formaldehyde (from bottle) until it is rendered harmless, after which it must pass exacting safety tests.

Animal tissue in tubes is inoculated with vaccine and let stand. If any live virus remains, it will multiply here, hence can be detected.

This expert is examining tissue after contact with vaccine, to determine absence of live virus.

It's all over and it didn't hurt a bit! Salk vaccine makes this little girl safer now from paralytic polio. And her parents feel better too!

GOD, SOUL ARE TOPICS

"Soul" will be the title of the Lesson Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday. The Golden Text from Psalms (35:9) reads "My soul shall be joyful in the Lord; it shall rejoice in His salvation." The joy of Soul is demonstrated in the healing of the man "lame from his mother's womb" who was laid daily at the gate of the temple. It is written of him in Acts: "Who seeing Peter and John about to go into the temple asked an alms... Then Peter said, Silver and gold have I none; but such as I have I give thee: In the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth rise up and walk... And he leaping up stood, and walked, and entered with them into the temple, walking, and leaping, and praising God" (Acts 3:3,6,8). A correlative passage in "Science and Health With Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy reads, "The Science of being reveals man as perfect, even as the Father is perfect; because the Soul, or Mind, of the spiritual man is God, the divine Principle of all being, and because this real man is governed by Soul instead of sense, by the law of Spirit, not by the so-called laws of matter" (p. 302).
